

She's A Stranger

Staring out
In the cold
Having visions of somebody that I used to know

Fearless mind
Everglow
She wasn't trying, wasn't hiding, she was full of hope

Ooo, oh
That soul, where did the girl go
Truth be told

Now she is just a stranger
That I'll never know, never nobody
She's a ghost of who I used to be and I'll never, never know

When did life take its hold traded her for someone I thought was more likable

Someone cool and controlled like all the girls that haunt me in the never ending scroll

ooo, oh
that soul, where did the girl go
truth be told

Now she is just a stranger
That I'll never know, never nobody
She's a ghost of who I used to be and I'll never, never know

Something happened as the years went by Wasn't picked, wasn't chosen
So I put on a permanent disguise
An easy fix, a silent erosion

Now she is just a stranger
That I'll never know, never nobody
She's a ghost of who I used to be and I'll never, never know

Now she is just a stranger
That I'll never know, never nobody
She's a ghost of who I used to be and I'll never, never know
